Thank you. It's very, very disappointing that they left fishermen high and dry again. We have got to allow more competition in our fisheries. Wesley Loy asked me about this today- I said we won't do what past admins have done in squashing opportunity for competition, but like AGIA with our gas resources we want to develop our fish resources with more competition.
Also, he asked me about a rumor that PeterPan put the Bay drifters on limits but allowed set netters (Todd) to keep fishing. I told him "wrong", not true, Todd was shut down along with everyone else. He appreciated being corrected, he said. Someone was spreading false rumors there.

Subject: Bristol Bay

I have talked with all the major processors to get status reports on their Bristol Bay operations. It appears that most of the fleet is on limits. For the drifters, the limits are relatively high, 9-11 thousands pounds per tide. For the setnetters, limits are lower. Limits may persist for a few more days until catches slow down. No one appears to have any additional assets available to deploy. Peter Pan was able to deploy an additional tender from their King Cove operation. Their King Cove plant is running at full speed with Bristol Bay fish. Icicle is running their three floaters and their shore plant in the bay and hauling 220-400 thousand pounds a day to their Kodiak plant. I have made it clear that we are disappointed with the way production is going in the bay and asked that they do everything in their power to increase production and lift limits as soon as possible.
I have the regional supervisor from ADF&G verifying processing assets on the grounds with what they promised in the capacity survey. He is applying pressure to processors and is also tracking limits and suspensions.
I am traveling to Naknek today and will meet with additional processors out there to see if anything else can be done.
Current production is in the 1.5-1.6 million fish per day range including what is being sent to other plants. The preseason survey indicated they would be able to handle 1.7 million daily not including sendouts, so they are a little short of what they predicted.
I will send another update after I get out there and talk to a few more processors. We also have one additional floating processor that is waiting on permits and are trying to expedite that process.
Cora

I'm not sure if you were informed that Potter Marsh Grand Opening will be Saturday, July 26, 2008.

It would mean so much if you could attend this grand opening. There will be rehabilitated eagle release, signing of the Urban Treaty for Migratory Birds. Our new boardwalk is now over 1,000 ft with wildlife viewing decks and viewing blinds. ADF&G's Mobile Aquatic Classroom with even be there. Some of the sponsors, none of this is political, so your husband can even come; are Alaska Department of Fish and Game, Bird Treatment and Learning Center, MOA Parks and Recreation, Alaska Zoo, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Anchorage Audubon, Anchorage Waterways Council, and Ducks Unlimited also Audubon Alaska. Your schedule is so busy so I can understand, I;m just an old operating room nurse, now wildlife photographer, and I have a friend who is a FBI agent, Bob Busey, in Anchorage is you need credentials. Subject: Rep. Ramras

Steve Quinn just told me that Rep. Ramras is doing cartwheels he is so happy with today's announcement.
